Additional reportable health conditions

- Summary: Several new laboratory-tested conditions become notifiable, and some previously grouped conditions have been specified. See the Table in WAC link above for complete list and details of agents, results, and timeframes. WA DOH ELR recognizes that laboratory directors have the responsibility and expertise to determine which of the tests and results performed at their facility are reportable conditions.
- Reference: WAC 246-101-201 (Effective January 1, 2023) (1)(a)(i) Table Lab-1 Notifiable conditions and laboratories. "This section describes the conditions about which Washington's laboratories must notify public health authorities of on a statewide basis. The board finds that the conditions in Table Lab-1 of this section are notifiable for the prevention and control of communicable and noninfectious diseases and conditions in Washington."

- Summary: All submitted ELR messages shall contain one or more of the specified values for the existing ELR data element of patient's race. Correctly formatted values from the WAC list or the national standardized list Code System Details \(cdc.gov\) are accepted.
- Reference: WAC 246-101-011 (5)(a-ttt) "Patient's race shall be identified by the patient and reported using one or more of the following categories; if the patient self-identifies as more than one race, each race shall be reported"
 - <https://app.leg.wa.gov/WAC/default.aspx?cite=246-101-011>
- Technical instructions:
 - Use HL7 segment PID-10
 - Value code set: see Race tab in file ELR Appendix Guidance Value lists August 2022.xls
 - Example highlighting race section: PID|1|||||||2106-3^White^CDCREC|||||||

Patient's preferred language

- Summary: All submitted ELR messages shall contain one of the specified values for the existing ELR data element of patient's primary language. Correctly formatted values from the WAC list or the national standardized list Download Tables | ISO 639-3 \(sil.org\) are accepted.
- Reference: WAC 246-101-011(6) (a-xx) "Patient's preferred language shall be identified by the patient and reported using one of the following categories:"
 - <https://app.leg.wa.gov/WAC/default.aspx?cite=246-101-011>
- Technical instructions:
 - Use HL7 PID-15
 - Value code set: see Language tab in file ELR Appendix Guidance Value lists August 2022.xls & TECHNO
 - Example highlighting language section:
PID|1|||||||ara^Arabic^ISO6392|||||

Pregnancy status (Hepatitis B virus & Hepatitis C virus only)

- Summary: All submitted ELR messages for hepatitis B virus and hepatitis C virus shall include pregnancy status. Refer to the linked references below and/or contact Hepatitis@doh.wa.gov for additional information about when to report pregnancy status for hepatitis B and C result.

- Reference: WAC 246-101-205 (4)(a)(vii) “For hepatitis B virus tests, pregnancy status (pregnant, not pregnant, or unknown) of patients twelve to fifty years of age”
 - <https://app.leg.wa.gov/WAC/default.aspx?cite=246-101-205>
- and WAC246-101-201 (3) Table Lab-1 Hepatitis B virus and Hepatitis C rows, “What to submit in a Laboratory Report” column “Pregnancy status”
 - <https://app.leg.wa.gov/WAC/default.aspx?cite=246-101-201>
- Technical instructions: use COVID AOE pregnancy formatting to report pregnancy in HL7
 - HL7 data element: OBX-3
 - LOINC 82810-3^Pregnancy status^LN
 - LOINC 11449-6^Pregnancy status reported^LN
 - Value code set: OBX-5
 - HL70136: Y – YES, N – NO, UNK – Unknown
 - SNOMED-CT: 77386006 Patient currently pregnant(finding), 60001007 Not pregnant, UNK Unknown
 - Example OBX:
 - OBX||CWE|82810-3^Pregnant^LN||N^No^HL70136|
 - OBX||CE|11449-6^PREGNANCY STATUS REPORTED^LN||77386006^Patient currently pregnant (finding)^SCT

Medicaid number (Child Blood Lead only)

- Summary: All submitted ELR messages for blood lead level tests for patients <72 months of age, shall include Medicaid status
- Reference: WAC 246-101-205 (Effective January 1, 2023) (4)(a)(x) “For blood lead level tests, Medicaid status of patients less than seventy-two months of age;”
 - <https://app.leg.wa.gov/WAC/default.aspx?cite=246-101-205>
- Technical instructions: Use the Patient Identifier value paired with a Patient Identifier Type of Medicaid for the collection of Medicaid identification number/Provider One number. A populated Patient Identifier with the type of Medicaid would indicate a Medicaid status of “yes”; if unpopulated then status is “no or unknown”. Provider One numbers are 9 digits followed by “WA” which matches the Patient Identifier format.
 - Use HL7 PID-3.1 and 3.5 (ID number and Identifier type code)
 - Example: PID|1||111111111WA^^^MA^||||||||||||||
